Ink & Blot Psychological Services is a private, fee-for-service psychological practice offering both in-person and virtual one-to-one evidence-based therapy for adults who have anxiety disorders, mood disorders, and trauma/stress injury-related disorders, as well as related concerns (e.g., grief and loss, stress management, etc.). I also offer psychodiagnostic assessment. If the referral is suitable, your patient will be seen at my earliest availability. Initially, I typically offer a free 15-min consultation to briefly assess goodness-of-fit. Please contact me directly for information about my current wait times.
